

Stephen Petterle, ASLA, Landscape Architect

Mr. Petterle has a Bachelor of Science degree in Environmental Planning and Management from the University of California at Davis and is a registered Landscape Architect. After a brief stint with the National Park Service at Sequoia/Kings Canyon National Parks, Mr. Petterle joined Marin Municipal Water District, performing watershed and recreation planning and resource related work for the Environmental Resources Division. In 1984, he became manager of the Division, responsible for administration, planning, maintenance, and law enforcement of a 20,000-acre watershed, and coordination of an intensive technical water conservation program. Mr. Petterle left the water district in 1990 to become a consultant in landscape architecture, resource management and water management. In 1993, he accepted a position with Marin County Parks where he retired in 2020 as Principal Landscape Architect.

In addition to serving on the North Marin Water District Board, Mr. Petterle is a director for the Marin Open Space Trust and sits on the Frank Lloyd Wright Civic Center Conservancy.
