

Mr. Eichstaedt has more than 35 years of technical engineering expertise that include: utility systems; roadways; railways; environmental clean-ups; and, civil infrastructure. He has well-versed in taking projects from initial evaluation and planning, into design, and ultimately into construction. He currently works as a Traffic Engineer for the City of Petaluma. Previously, he worked for Harding Lawson Associates (Novato), URS/AECOM(SF) and was the General Manager for a water company on the coast.

He and his wife own a West Marin business and committee work includes:

- Board Member (former), West Marin Chamber of Commerce
- Olema Valley Association Member (part of the Alliance of Coastal Marin Villages)
- KWMR Programmer and Volunteer